Homeward Bound Cat Adoptions Invites Las Vegas Families to a Halloween Cat-a-Ganza

Las Vegas, NV – Get those costumes ready and stock up on candy! Homeward Bound Cat Adoptions is inviting Las Vegas families to its Halloween Cat-a-Ganza on Saturday, October 31, from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m., for an afternoon of Halloween fun, sweet treats and adorable cats looking for loving homes.

The family-friendly celebration will feature costumes, trick-or-treating, candy and plenty of opportunities to meet some very special feline residents. Whether you're bringing little ghosts and goblins for Halloween fun, looking for a new furry family member, or simply want to celebrate with fellow cat lovers, there's something to make everyone's day a little more magical.

And while the kids collect their treats, parents might just discover a different kind of Halloween magic: falling in love with a cat who's ready to go home!

Help fill the candy bowls!

Homeward Bound Cat Adoptions is also seeking donations of individually wrapped Halloween candy to help make the event extra sweet. Community members can drop off a bag (or two!) of candy in advance, helping ensure there are plenty of treats for the little trick-or-treaters who stop by. Donations are welcome any day between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Two ways to join the fun:

- Donate candy: Bring individually wrapped candy to Homeward Bound Cat Adoptions before the event.
- Bring the family: Come in costume on Halloween, enjoy the festivities, collect some treats and meet the cats who might just steal your heart.
